

HESSTON COLLEGE THEATRE
FOR YOUNG AUDIENCES PRESENTS

Charlotte's Web

September 23–27, 2020

Based on the novel by E.B. White • Dramatized by Joseph Robinette
Directed by Celaine Worden

Run time is approximately 50 minutes, with no intermission.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Charlotte's Web is a time-honored story teaching children about the truths of friendship and sacrifice. Wilbur is a young pig trying to navigate a constantly changing world. While he is searching for a way to survive life on the farm, he realizes what he wants most is friendship and love.

Rehearsing this show during the COVID-19 pandemic has been a challenging and unknown adventure. Together we have learned how to communicate in the world of theatre through masks, quarantine, and social distancing. Just like Wilbur, we as a cast, crew, and community have realized that our survival depends on our connection with others. All of us have a universal longing and need for friendship and love.

TIME & PLACE

In the present

Farm of John Arable; farm of Homer Zuckerman; county fairgrounds

CAST

Fern Arable – Diane Soguilon

John Arable, Sheep, Lurvy – Josh Fleming

Narrator, Avery Arable – Savannah Zink

Homer Zuckerman – Tristan Costin

Wilbur – Isaac Tice

Templeton – Alex Miller

Charlotte – Erin Peters

Goose, Spectator, President of the Fair – Kayla Gunn

Gander, Ms. Carter, Spectator – Cori Lyall

PRODUCTION TEAM

Director – Celaine Worden

Stage Manager – Kaytlen Keough

Scenic Design – Doug Peters

Carpenters – Jim Diller, Gerry Selzer

Microphone and Sound Application – Adam Akers, Jacob Hess

Costumes – Erin Peters, Rachel Jantzi, Celaine Worden

THANKS

Dyck Arboretum of the Plains, Rachel Jantzi, Russell Adrian, Scott Steinert, Hesston College Marketing and Communications